goes at your Safeway Store

When you spend a dollar here for food, Safeway receives only 1 and 6/10 cents of it. Over 75 cents goes to the farmer and the man who "processes" and transports the food. 11 cents pays salaries and other expenses. Most of this money stays in your own state—helps promote your prosperity.

Your Safeway grocer knows his living depends on your prosperity. By spending money here, by saving your money on food, by giving a larger portion of your food dollar to farmers in your state, he is helping you every hour of the day.

SILVER STAR BOYS make fine music FOR LODGE DANCE

Torrance Lodge No. 33, A. O. U. W., gave a dance on its last meeting night in Social hall on Torrance boulevard. Guest tickets were given out and a large number danced to the music of the Silver Star Ranch "boys." This orchestra is composed of Torrance high school students of which the following players, led by Mr. M. E. Stebeck, pianist, rendered fine music: Frank Lawler, Henry Popkoff, Harold Maasie, Otto Koch and Eugene Bryan. A good time was enjoyed by all.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen was organized nationally by October 27, 1885, at Meadville, Pennsylvania, by John Jordan Upchurch. It was the first fraternal beneficiary society to be organized in this country. As the A. O. U. W. increased its membership, grand lodges were organized in various states. In 1885 the grand lodge of North Dakota was instituted. For several years its activities were confined to the state in which it was organized. Later the jurisdiction of the grand lodge of North Dakota extends from coast to coast in 30 states. The home office for this large territory is Fargo, North Dakota.

In 1904 legal reserve rates were adopted by the North Dakota organization, the first fraternal beneficiary society to take action to establish such a high standard. The present assets of the A. O. U. W. are more than $12,000,000 and since organization, benefits of about $14,000,000 have been paid to members by this grand lodge.

The officers are: Bradley C. Marks, grand master workman, and E. J. Moore, grand recorder. The officers of Torrance lodge are: John H. Stron, master workman, and Robert J. Deininger, recorder-treasurer.

Stockholders of the Southern California Edison Company, Ltd., at their thirty-ninth annual meeting March 15, unanimously re-elected the present board of directors. As an innovation in conducting corporation annual meetings the Edison Company's stockholders meeting was broadcast by radio from the Edison building in Los Angeles to the company's 11 division centers throughout southern and central California. Hundreds of stockholders residing distant from Los Angeles were enabled to hear the annual meeting proceedings through the company's private broadcast facilities. This is believed to be the first time in history that any company has used this most modern method of communication for a stockholders' meeting. It was made possible through the company's extensive communication system, combined with the use of radio broadcast receivers and phonograph pickup facilities.

The re-elected board of directors is composed of Harry J. Bauer, president of the company; C. A. Buffum, George I. Cochran, John H. Fisher, Albert W. Harris, A. N. Kemp, Fred B. Lewis, A. J. MacFadden, Ben R. Meyer, W. C. Mullendore, Donald O'Melveny, James R. Page and Henry M. Robinson.

Mr. Bauer, presiding at the meeting, briefly reviewed the company's progress during the year and directed the attention of the stockholders to the need for their more active interest in the company's affairs.

"The Edison Company is not owned by a wealthy few, but by 121,000 people, most of them of moderate means," Mr. Bauer said. "In selecting this company as a medium through which to invest their savings, they did so because they believed it would be helpful to their community to have good, reliable electrical service provided at fair rates. They further believed that an investment honestly made in an essential service, under the regulation of state authority and hence under governmental supervision, would be a safe investment. It is quite natural that these people, who are the Edison Company, should deeply resent frequent implications in unjust and unfair attacks that their company is a selfish corporation owned by a few wealthy individuals. We of the Edison Company who are charged with the duty of managing its affairs are endeavoring to operate the company in the interest of both its consumers and its stockholders, which we believe is the true public interest. In periods like the present, when there is unusual activity by those who, for political or other gain, seek to destroy the most valuable asset of any business institution, public goodwill, stockholders must assist the managements of their companies to offset this increased effort against their own and the public interest. We ask you to be concerned with the preservation of your own property."

Addresses to the stockholders assembled in Los Angeles and distributed in the 11 division points also were made by W. C. Mullendore, executive vice president; and Fred B. Lewis, general manager, both discussing phases of the company's activities and setting forth the prospects for 1935 and future years.

The board of directors, at their organization meeting following the stockholders' meeting, re-elected officers as follows: Mr. Bauer, president; Mr. Mullendore, executive vice president; Mr. Lewis, vice president; and general manager, Roy Y. Reppy, vice president and general counsel; D. M. Trott, vice president in charge of finance; W. L. Frost, vice president in charge of sales; Will H. Fischer, vice president in charge of public relations; B. T. Stov, treasurer; B. F. Fluno, comptroller, and Clifton Peters, secretary.
